

PSALM

33

raise befits the upright.
Give thanks to the Lord.

(PSALM 33:1B-2A)

STRUCTURE

- v. 1-3 Introduction: Praise and sing to God.
- v. 4-9 The Lord is over all the Earth, for He is its Creator.
- v. 10-17 The Lord is over all nations and kings.
- v. 18-22 Our hope is in the merciful Lord and His steadfast love.

AT A GLANCE

- THIS SOUNDS FAMILIAR Mention of singing a "new song" to the Lord first appears here, but is repeated in later psalms (40, 96, 98, 144, 149).
- INWARDLY DIGEST This psalm emphasizes God's greatness over all creation and all the nations and kings of the earth. All things are subject to Him.
- BLESSING The psalm speaks of God's special relationship with the people who hope in Him: This almighty God has steadfast love for His people and delivers them.

CHRIST IS HERE

The upright Word of the Lord by whom the heavens were made and the revelation of God's steadfast love is Christ Jesus, the Word made flesh.

CHRIST IS HERE

The upright Word of the Lord by whom the heavens were made and the revelation of God's steadfast love is Christ Jesus, the Word made flesh.

God's people praise Him and hope in Him, because He is the Lord of all creation. He made the world, and continues to govern and keep it. He is also Lord over all the nations and kings of the earth. Those rulers and peoples who trust in Him are blessed, while those who oppose Him will ultimately be frustrated. Their might cannot save them. Moreover, God's people praise Him and put their hope in Him because He shows His steadfast love to them, preserves their lives, and helps and shields them. Though God is all-powerful and worthy of being praised, His chief characteristic is His steadfast love. Knowing this, the psalmist calls upon the righteous to give thanks to Him and sing His praise. This God is none other than the Holy Trinity. All three Persons work together in creation and in saving God's people: the Word of the Father who becomes incarnate, and the life-giving Spirit (SEE V. 4, GEN. 1:1-2 AND JOHN 1:1-3).

SPIRITUAL CARE

- Rejoicing at good news and blessings.
- When evil seems to prosper.
- During times of doubt.
- When death is near.
