Psalm 14 laments the folly of fools, which is their rejection of God, and that these foolish ways are widespread among men. Throughout the Bible, a fool is one who refuses to listen to the word of the LORD. The sinful heart of the fool cannot and will not do good. Apart from faith in Christ, who alone is righteous, it is impossible to please God (SEE ROM. 3:21). The foolishness of those who reject God shows itself in their abuse of the poor and needy. While they say “There is no God,” they live in terror of Him. Their conscience cannot escape the reality of the judge of the universe. Perhaps one of the best illustrations of this text is the story of David and Nabal (whose name literally means “fool”) in 1 Samuel 25. The LORD vindicated David by putting Nabal to death, and He will vindicate His people today. The Christian is not to side with the wicked — especially against other Christians! Instead, the Christian is to call the fool to repentance and to entrust their salvation to Christ alone. When we do this, we can truly rejoice and be glad.

PSALM PRAYER

O Lord, teach us always to believe and call on Your name, that we may not think like the fools who cry, “There is no God.” Turn the corruption of their mind to the truth of the faithful, that their wickedness may not overcome those faithful, but that the faithful may win them by the doctrine of love, that they may throw off their abominable heresy, and together with the faithful in a pure heart believe and confess the essence of the Trinity, and be numbered with the generation of the righteous, and with Your saints enjoy the glory of blessedness; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.
