The Church Shares Jesus' Heart for Mercy

Christ, our Lord, is the physical embodiment of mercy. He came into this world to address the many needs of His creation, both body and soul.

The church continues His work. While pastors preach the Word and administer the Sacraments, congregations and institutions have the opportunity to employ a deaconess intern to assist in reaching out to people in need.

As student deaconesses in the field, interns work in a variety of settings: classrooms, offices, hospitals, homes, shelters, soup kitchens, pregnancy centers, residences for the elderly, special needs facilities and so on.

"But the Holy Spirit carries on His work without ceasing to the Last Day. For that purpose He has appointed a congregation upon earth by which He speaks and does everything." (LC II: 61)

Deaconess Internship

After completing the prerequisite coursework and fieldwork, all deaconess students are placed in a paid internship for one year of domestic service or two years of international service. This time is devoted to the practical hands-on application of theological studies and skills acquired for the delivery of diaconal ministry. Periodic reviews and evaluation of interns provide guidance for their professional growth and development.

Internships may be served in LCMS congregations, institutions or Recognized Service Organizations (RSOs). Each LCMS training program places its own deaconess intern candidates, matching women with placement assignments tailored to the individual skills of the student, ideally providing focus for future service.
